FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Dr. Kam Zinsser of Cisco College Selected to Speak On The Subject of The Transformative Potential of Real Leadership in Higher Education

Abilene, Texas - March 26, 2019 - Dr. Kam Zinsser has been selected to speak on the subject of The Transformative Potential of Real Leadership in Higher Education! at the annual conference of the Texas Administrators of Continuing Education (TACE) to be held on April 16-18 at the Omni Hotel - Southpark, 4140 Governor's Row, Austin, Texas, according to Vernon Hawkins, TACE president. "The TACE conference gives professionals in the field of Continuing Education a chance to expand their program development knowledge as they hear from experts who share their knowledge and best practices," said Hawkins.

The Texas Administrators of Continuing Education seeks to assist local community/junior colleges as they work with the citizens of Texas individually and with business, government, and industry collectively to see that all residents of Texas are educated in the basic skills needed for successful employment. TACE also serves to support adequate funding for continuing and workforce education programs in Texas, to assist business, government, and industry with their "on-going" training and educational needs by placing them in contact with a local community/junior college, and to assist business, government, and industry as they address the needs of a workforce in transition through consulting and contract training.

“TACE seeks to maintain a communication network and arena for mutual association and the exchange of ideas among professionals in continuing and workforce education, “stated Hawkins. “The organization also exists to provide members with up-to-date, factual information regarding national, state, and local issues affecting the welfare and status of continuing and workforce education in Texas, and to support professionalism, integrity, and quality continuing and workforce education programs in Texas.”

TACE officers for 2019 include President Vernon L. Hawkins, Associate Vice-President Workforce and Continuing Education Brookhaven College; Vice President Konley Kelley Director, Corporate and Community Relations Richland College, Garland Campus; Interim Treasurer and Secretary, Janetta Kruse, Director Workforce & Continuing Education Weatherford College, and Past President Frank Graves Dean, Workforce and Public Service McLennan Community College.
