Cisco College Unveils New and Improved Website

Cisco, Texas (February 2, 2018) – Cisco College is proud to unveil a completely redesigned website, still conveniently located at www.cisco.edu. This new website provides a more dynamic and user-friendly platform to help visitors locate information quickly and easily.

“Today most people rely on the Internet to gather information and make decisions,” said Kaitlin Berry, Director of Marketing and Public Relations. “We are committed to serving our community with access to quality education, and that accessibility starts with providing a website that is easy to use.”

Visitors to the site will have easy access to helpful resources and information about the many educational opportunities Cisco College has to offer. Whether you are a high school student seeking college credit or a local business seeking workforce training, this new website will be much more interactive and engaging.

Current Students will also find helpful links to academic resources, degree plans, faculty and staff contact information, campus wide events and so much more.

Some of the new features include:

- Enhanced program pages with more information on courses and career paths available
- Mobile and tablet friendly design
- Responsive layout that changes depending on the device being used
- More interactive elements, with RSS feeds, social media sharing, videos, and more
- User-friendly navigation that will make it easier to find the content you need
- Look and feel that is more representative of Cisco College
- Easy to use electronic forms

“It’s exciting that Cisco College has a new website that highlights the many resources and opportunities for higher education and workforce training that we have to offer. I look forward to how this change will help us communicate our mission more effectively to all interested visitors,” said Dr. Thad Anglin, President of Cisco College.

As a fun way to introduce visitors to the site, Cisco College is holding an online scavenger hunt! To participate visit www.cisco.edu/online-scamenger-hunt, follow the on-screen instructions and fill out the electronic form.

At the conclusion of the contest, three individuals who successfully complete the scavenger hunt will be randomly selected to win a special prize. This scavenger hunt will only be open until Friday, February 16th, 2018 at 12:00p.m. Don't delay; check out the new and improved www.cisco.edu today!

For additional information about the new website or the introductory scavenger hunt please contact Kaitlin Berry, Director of Marketing and Public Relations at (254) 442-5013 or kaitlin.berry@cisco.edu.
